We are...

... a high-performance medical centre for haematology and oncology with an outpatient clinic, day-care facilities and hospital beds for inpatient stays in the adjoining hospital. Our motto is 'high quality medical care under one roof'.

Our team of specialists offers a complete range of services from diagnosis and therapy through to follow-up. Thanks to our cooperation with other specialists at the Bethanien-Hospital we can save our patients time and unnecessary journeys. Our interdisciplinary work with several Breast-Cancer-Centres guarantees that our patients receive treatments that meet the newest scientific standards.

Our staff

Our medical assistants at the reception desk are there to take care of any questions you may have. Please remember to bring your insurance card and your referral with you.

Quality

Regular certifications ensure that our practice offers the highest standards and that we continually enhance our patient care.

Our doctors are all members of national and international medical associations. One of our priorities is to make sure that new developments are incorporated into our treatment as quickly as possible. This is also achieved by regular attendance of scientific meetings and active participation in clinical trials.

Therapy and Quality of life

The preservation of the quality of life and amelioration of symptoms of our patients during anti-tumour therapy is a very important aspect of our work.

Advancements in pharmaceutical development have had a significant impact in improving treatment efficacy while lowering the amount of side effects and increasing the tolerability of anti-cancer therapies such as cytostatics, anti-hormone treatments and immunotherapy.

Today many patients can be treated in an outpatient setting which makes lengthy in-patient stays in the hospital unnecessary. This alone is for many patients an important aspect of their quality of life. Our technical equipment provides high quality treatment while ensuring that our patients only spend as much time as absolutely necessary in our practice.

We hope that our friendly and dedicated staff will help make your time spent in our practice as pleasant as possible.
